

Twitter Tips for Job Seekers

What is Twitter?

- It's like a blog, but only has 140 characters
- It's like the "update" status on FaceBook or LinkedIn, but it's viewable in a lot more places
- It's like a giant chat room, but you choose who you follow, and who follows you
- It's like Instant Messaging, but it's public, archived and searchable

Twitter Lingo (from Sisley-Blinn's Blog: <http://sisleyblinn.wordpress.com>)

- TwitterStream: A collection of tweets; usually refers to the stream of tweets sent by everyone that you follow but may refer to the public timeline of all tweets.
- Follower: Someone who sees your tweets in their TweetStream.
- @reply / @name: A form of conversation on Twitter. @username either directs a Tweet to someone or indicates a reply to a Tweet that person has sent. @replies can be viewed in the "replies" tab on the Twitter website
- DM: A private (direct) tweet. Direct tweets do not appear in the public tweetstream.
- RT or Retweet: Analogous to forwarding an email; re-sending a tweet sent by someone else. Courtesy: include the @username of the person who authored the tweet.
- # hashtag: this is a way to group tweets by keyword. It is particularly useful for events and groups.
- Favorite: A "bookmarked" tweet. A great place to store testimonials

- Have opinions (but don't be abrasive)
- Don't give us the minute details of your life
- Don't be purposefully annoying

Top 10 Twitter Tips (from @Twitips: <http://www.twitip.com>)

1. Twitter is a place to learn, listen – and then connect with people who can offer you work or advice.
2. Define your goals (e.g. jobseeking).
3. Interact with individuals you might not normally come into contact with by sending a simple @ message or comment. Or try ReTweeting some of their messages before you introduce yourself. If you get a response you can then take it from there.
4. Use a photo of yourself or your business logo in you profile.
5. Find out who the influencers are in your industry and see if they are on Twitter. If they are, follow them.
6. Utilize a Twitter photo-sharing site like TwitPic to share cool photos from your typical business day, or while plying your craft, so that people get to know you. It helps to build social trust.
7. Use Twitter Search with keywords to find information and conversations that are relevant to your job search.
8. Don't Tweet anything that you would not want to see on the front page of a newspaper or wildly famous website.
9. Do interact and connect and don't hesitate to @ message folks who have 10x or 100x the number of followers you have.
10. Create connections. Don't spam. You most likely would not just walk into a crowded venue where you don't know anyone and say, "Hi my name is Bob and I need you to hire me." This method does not work very well on Twitter.
